Judge Edward M. Burke held regular session Tuesday afternoon of the probate court for the town of Westerly in the office of the town clerk. The first and final account of the estate of George A. Thomas by the administrative. Edna Thomas, was received, examined and approved for record.

The inventory of the estate of James S. Barber, filed by Sarah A. Barber, administratrix, showed valuation of personal property of $8.157.74, which was, ordered recorded.

The estate of William Hoxle, as inventorled by the appraisers, Arthur L. Perry, Everett Barnes and Orvilla Stillman, showed valuation of $188,826. The inventory was examined and approved for record.

The petition of Aurelia V. Young that the estate of Milton A. Young be declared insolvent and that commissioners be appointed was continued to the next session of court.

If the Watch Hill cottagers are ear-If the Watch Hill cottagers are earnest in their declaration to be separated from the town of Westerly and that the Watch Hill fire district be legislated into a full fledged town, which is just what the separation would mean it would undoubtedly be the smallest town in the state, and under the constitution would be entitled to a senator and representative in the general assembly. Then, too, the state would be called upon to add the Watch Hill road and East avenue to the state road system, as they would then lead from one town to another, although Watch Hill would only be the terminal of both roads.

This would relieve Westerly of con-of both roads.

This would relieve Westerly of considerable expense, much more than is realized from taxation of Watch Hill property, for there would be no expense for the care of these highways. Watch Hill would then provide its own police protection, perhaps would have its own system of water works and bear all the burdens that goes with a town. All this would mean a material own. All this would mean a materia nersase of taxation at Watch Hil and perhaps that is why some of th Watch Hill cottagers declate the pro-lect to be impossible and absurd. of Watch Hill entitled to vote in Westerly and twenty of these are considered as residents on paper. Here in Westerly they pay offly nominal tax in comparison with what they would be taxed in their actual home cities.

By Arrangement of White and Red Globes on Clock Face Dials Can Be Read Two Miles Away.

The Seth Thomas Clock company of Thomaston has recently made for the United States courthouse at Newbern, N. C., a large tower clock with an unusual feature never before used in any clock. The dials do not have numerals to indicate the hour, but twelve opalescent glass disks instead, which show white in the daytime and at night an electric light in an aluminum reflector back of each disk will show. There are windows in the building behind each dial to permit the renewing of the lights and the dials will revolve so that the lights can be reached.
